

Joseph Bird, MD

Dr. Bird is a reproductive endocrinologist who has practiced in Chattanooga since 1996. He completed a residency in OB/GYN at Erlanger Medical Center in 1994 and began a two year fellowship at the University of Louisville College of Medicine in Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility which ended in 1996. He is an assistant professor in the University of Tennessee College Of Medicine at Chattanooga OB/GYN Residency where he trains new residents each year. His areas of interest include Infertility Medicine, Menopausal Medicine, and Alternative Hormone Replacement Options. A new area of focus for him is Age Management Medicine which he is actively incorporating into his practice.