

What is the GHHS?

Established in 2002, the Gold Humanism Honor Society (GHHS) is an international association of individuals and medical school chapters whose members are selected as exemplars of empathy, compassion, altruism, integrity, and service in their relationships with patients and others in the field of medicine. The University of Tennessee Gold Humanism Honor Society Chapter was approved in March 2009 and the first inductees were named on April 16, 2009. Our GHHS Chapter was made possible by an initial grant from the Arnold P. Gold Foundation, led by Drs. Owen Phillips, Associate Dean, UT College of Medicine (Memphis), and Mukta Panda, now Assistant Dean for Medical Student Education (Chattanooga).

The GHHS Mission

The GHHS is dedicated to foster, recognize, and support the values of humanism and professionalism in medicine. The Society commits itself to work within and beyond medical education to inspire, nurture, and sustain lifelong advocates and activists for compassionate patient care.

Honor Society Pledge

I pledge by all that I hold dear as a Physician:

1. I will Care for my patients with Compassion, Respect, Empathy, Integrity and Clinical Excellence.
2. I will listen to my patients with my whole being.
3. I will advocate for each patient as a unique individual.
4. I will serve as a role model and mentor to promote humanism in health care.
5. I will remember always the healing power of acts of caring.
6. I will dedicate myself to joining with others to make health care optimal for all.

Who are GHSS Members?

- Medical students, residents, medical school faculty members, and national figures who are role models in their contributions to compassionate service in medicine.
- Recipients of the Gold Foundation's Leonard Tow Humanism in Medicine Award.
- Recipients of the Accreditation's Council for Graduate Medical Education's Parker J. Palmer Courage to Teach Award.
- Recipients of the Arnold P. Gold Foundation's Humanism and Excellence in Teaching Award.

We appreciate your support of the GHHS Chapter and its activities. You can make your tax deductible donations for GHHS to The Internal Medicine Education Foundation, Inc. This foundation is a 401(c) 3 non-profit organization for the purpose of enhancing the teaching and learning in the programs of the University of Tennessee College of Medicine Chattanooga. The IMEF is supported by grant awards from Corporations, research projects, Endowed Lecture Series, and contributions from faculty, alumni, and friends. Any donations to the GHHS Chapter can be sent to the Foundation and will be accounted for in a separate fund for accounting and reporting purposes.
